PLANTING IN ULU LANGAT.

A 320-acre block of forest land, adjoining those already granted to Messrs. Parry and Feilding, was alienated during September in favour of Lord Denbigh, forming, together with those blocks, what is now known as the Belmont Estate. A further area of 320 acres was also applied for by Mr. F. B. Hicks, one of the proprietors of the adjoining West Country Estate. These estates, opened in March last, show good progress, the clearings extending altogether to 250 acres, and in both cases it is intended to open shortly a considerably larger area. At Hell's Glen, on the opposite side of the river, 100 acres have recently been cleared by the Messrs. Kindersley. Of the older coffee estates under European management, the area under cultivation has been increased by upwards of 200 acres since the beginning of the year. Braemar, formerly the property of Messrs. Toynbee and Traill, having recently been purchased by Goh Ah Ngee, of Balau fame.
